

Vision of ShareFest

(from The Church of Irresistible Influence by Robert Lewis)

Can we imagine the communities in which we live being genuinely thankful for our churches?

Can you imagine city and social service organization leaders valuing our churches' friendship and participation in the community and even asking for it?

Can you imagine the neighborhoods around us talking behind our backs about how good it is to have our churches in the area because of our tangible witness of God's love?

Can you imagine a large number of us actively engaged in and passionate about community service, using our gifts and abilities in ways we never thought possible?

Can you imagine the community actually changing because of the impact of our churches' involvement?

Can you imagine many in our towns, who were formerly cynical and hostile towards Christianity, actually praising God for our churches and the positive contributions we have made in Jesus' name?

Can you imagine the spiritual harvest that would naturally result from this outpouring of love in Jesus name?

Vision of ShareFest

(from The Church of Irresistible Influence by Robert Lewis)

Can we imagine the communities in which we live being genuinely thankful for our churches?

Can you imagine city and social service organization leaders valuing our churches' friendship and participation in the community and even asking for it?

Can you imagine the neighborhoods around us talking behind our backs about how good it is to have our churches in the area because of our tangible witness of God's love?

Can you imagine a large number of us actively engaged in and passionate about community service, using our gifts and abilities in ways we never thought possible?

Can you imagine the community actually changing because of the impact of our churches' involvement?

Can you imagine many in our towns, who were formerly cynical and hostile towards Christianity, actually praising God for our churches and the positive contributions we have made in Jesus' name?

Can you imagine the spiritual harvest that would naturally result from this outpouring of love in Jesus name?